Eric was born in 1970 in Vancouver, BC Canada and resides in Vancouver, BC, Canada. Eric is a husband, a father of two young toddlers, and enjoys the outdoors and restoring vintage mountain bikes. He holds dual Canadian and British citizenships. During his high school days, Disney filmed The Boy Who Could Fly (1985) just down the road and Eric spotted the unit still photographer. Since then, it's all he's ever wanted to do. Eric has been shooting film since the age of eight and has been a digital photographer since 1996 with the introduction of film scanners and Photoshop version 3. Eric has been a member of IATSE 891 for nineteen years and a member of IATSE 669 for thirteen years and knows our business down to the pixel.
